String Lighting. Elegance in form of light

String Lighting is something like a multi-use lighting tool. It can be used in many different ways but at the same time satisfy various purposes. For example it can beautifully illuminate a wedding venue or a terrace where there is no underlying lighting infrastructure or it can be used in combination with the appropriate decoration to stimulate a special wedding theme (such an island based boho beach wedding). Just imagine an unattractive tent or ceiling you want to cover but at the same time light up your dinner area. With the use of String Lights this is absolutely possible. In case that the existing facility of the venue and general morphology allows so, a lot of different designs, layouts and applications of hanging and support can be applied. So your wedding reception will be illuminated in the most modern, romantic and glorious way.
